The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

POSTAL EVOLUTION.

STORY OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE MAIL SERVICE.

Crude Methods of Early Ages—Biblical References to the Post—Beginning of What Has Become an Almost Perfect and a Cheap System.

It seems almost incredible, in view of the wonderful labyrinth of postal routes all over the world today, that there ever could have been a time when there were no postoffices, no letter carrier, no mail facilities at all.

But, of course, there had to be some means of communication even in the earliest ages, though these were confined for centuries to emperors and kings and other great rulers. The emperors of Egypt, of Persia, of Assyria and of Rome held many lesser kings and satraps as their vassals. With these it was necessary to communicate with certainty and regularity, and therefore couriers were employed to carry dispatches and reports to and from the more distant provinces.

Of course no one man or one horse could traverse the whole route, so stations were established along the roads at certain intervals, where couriers were always in readiness to relieve weary brothers, and carry on the dispatches with uniform speed. These stations were called "posts," from the Latin word positum—fixed or placed—whence comes the name of our modern postal system.

In the Old Testament are frequent references to the posts. In II Chronicles you will find, "So the posts went with the letters," and "So the posts passed from city to city." In Esther also and in Job and Jeremiah you will find other allusions to the posts. But they were never for the use of the common people.

The Roman Emperor Augustus was the first to establish a system of posts suggestive of the present system. You have heard the saying, "All roads lead to Rome." This was the origin of it: From Rome as a center post roads were built, called "royal highways," extending all over Europe. After the decline of the Roman empire these post roads were abandoned by degrees, and during the dark ages they almost entirely disappeared.

In the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, however, their need began to be so strongly felt that posts between different parts of the same country were established, and soon these were extended into other countries. These posts were carried first by foot runners and then a little later by men on horseback.

It was not long, though, before the post privilege was extended, and it was found impossible for horseback riders to carry the increasing mail, so wheeled conveyances were provided, and the next step was for these conveyances to carry passengers as well as the mail.

And thus from the post was evolved the mail coach. What this meant to our hitherto shut in ancestors it is hard for us of the present day to realize even faintly. But it is safe to say that the evolution of the public post and the mail coach did more than any other one thing to hasten civilization.

In the reign of the Emperor Frederick III, Francis von Laxis, whose grandfather is said to have established a postal service across the Tyrol and Styria, entered the service of the house of Hapsburg and became the founder of the modern postal system. Through Von Laxis the emperor established regular posts throughout his kingdom between the years 1440 and 1493, and at the beginning of the sixteenth century the Austrian post became the international post of the Hapsburg dynasty.

In France the University of Paris organized a postal service in the thirteenth century which flourished until 1719. In some parts of Europe there were brotherhoods and mercantile guilds which established posts and postoffices subject to the government.

In England, in 1653, Rowland Hill started a private post, but Cromwell's heavy hand came down on the enterprise, and the men who carried the letters were trampled down and killed by his soldiers. Later on Mr. Hill came to the front again, instituted many reforms in the service, and at last gave to England a real and effective postal service. Louis XI of France founded a postal system in 1464, which was greatly improved by Charles IX in 1565.

But it was not alone the Christian nations that felt the need of a postal service. When the Spaniards invaded South America, they found a regular system of posts in operation, so that the news of their landing was carried to the inca with incredible swiftness, the postmen being runners, who carried around their waists knotted cords, a code of signals or sign writing.

Coming down to our own country, suppose we take a peep at the mail methods in vogue in its earlier days. Let us take as a type the postal service between Boston and New York, where, in 1762, a post was established "to goe monthly." Post riders, starting at the same hour from each end of the route, carried the mails. Leaving on Monday morning, they met and exchanged bags at Saybrook, Conn., on the following Saturday. Then each man returned to his starting point, which, of course, took nearly another week.

It was Benjamin Franklin that, in 1775, suggested the plan for a postal service on which our present system is founded. In the early days of this system rates were charged that seem outrageous to us of the present day—between Boston and New York, 18¾ cents, and 25 cents for points beyond. Of course this led to swindling the government and the smuggling of letters. Private parties carried mail secretly at lower rates, and in 1839 Harnden's express entered the field, carrying letters concealed in bundles and other packages at less than legal rates.

But as soon as the government lowered its charges all these smugglers dropped out of the race. There was no money in it then.—Philadelphia Times.

RUFE EISELE'S BILLIARD BALLS.

They Were Not Ivory or Celluloid and Were Never Turned.

"How does it come that you have red, white and blue billiard balls?" asked the whip salesman of Rufe Eisele, who keeps the Brant House at Sloop Creek.

"'Tis kinder extraordinary, ain't it?" said Rufe. "But somehow or another extraordinary things happen down here. You wouldn't believe it if I told you that I had them balls afore I had the table. I bought the table for $40 from Bart Greenleaf, and he won it at a raffle up to Asbury. That table's wuth plum $250, and the balls is just a gift of nature—come by a special act of Providence, you might say. You never see balls just like them before. They ain't ivory, and they ain't celluloid. If they was celluloid, they wouldn't be here now. They ain't this patent putty composition that they make cheap pool balls of either. Just what they are I ain't prepared to say, and I 'spect that the nature of the material these were made from is changed from what it was at first.

"I'll tell you how I come by 'em, and you'll learn what extraordinary things can happen down hereaways. A year ago the 13th of June there was a party of Brooklyn fellows down here, and they set out for a good time. They fetched cards and chips with them and 'lowed to play poker until 4 o'clock in the morning and then go fishing. I sot up with them and took a hand in the game. We were setting at that round table, and it was pushed over in the corner between them windows. 'Long about 12 o'clock I was mixing drinks for the crowd, when I heard thunder and mutterin and see flashes of lightning. I told them fellows they'd better move away from the windows, but they laughed at me.

"One fellow had been winning right straight along. He had a big pile of chips in front of him, and they was in his way. So he began stacking them up according to color and laid 25 of each kind in stacks side by side on the window sill. Meanwhile the storm broke and the lightning played hob around the house. The party got kinder scared and jumped up promptly when I proposed to all to go to the bar and have a drink. I was just setting out the glasses when there was a swish of lightning that turned the whole air blue. I didn't hear any thunder, but I see big balls of fire dancing round the room, and one of them hit me right on the breast and knocked me down behind the bar. Every man in the room was hit plumb in the gizzard with a ball of fire and knocked flat. I don't know how long it was before we all come to and took our drinks, but I do know that the storm had passed. I looked round and was surprised to find that nothing had been hurt. After the fellows all took their drinks they wanted to play poker again and started for the table. There the fellow that had won most of the chips put up a holler about them. He said somebody had got 'em.

"I didn't b'lieve that possible, and I told him that the lightning had probably knocked them offen the window sill. Then he looked on the floor under the table and said, 'I don't see no chips, but here's a billiard ball,' and he picked up a red ball. Now I never had a billiard ball in my house before, and I thought that he was playing a trick on me until one of the other fellows moved his feet and rolled a white ball out on the floor. I picked it up and found it was hot. A minute later Ike Hicks gave a whoop and held up a blue billiard ball, saying it was the first he ever seen in his life. Then it come to us all at once that the lightning had struck them poker chips and melted 'em into solid balls. P'raps they ain't quite as regular as some, but they answer all our purposes."—New York Sun.

ART AMONG THE ESKIMOS.

Clever Carvers In Ivory and Some Who Can Sketch.

We did much entertaining, as we were continually visited by different members of the tribe of 200 or more. They were content to sit and share the warmth and shelter of our house and gaze on the curious things it contained. They would turn the pages of a magazine by the hour, and, holding the book upside down, ask questions about pictures. What particularly pleased them was anything in the shape of gun, knife or ammunition. Of eating they never tired. The amount of food they consumed was astonishing, and they particularly reveled in our coffee, biscuit and pemmican. This love was manifested by a little ditty that they sang quite often:

Uh-bis-e-ken,
Uh-pem-e-kem.

The women are very clever with the needle, and as most of us had adopted the Innuit boot of sealskin which required frequent mending, they were always in demand. In mechanical ingenuity they are remarkable. Both men and women are carvers in ivory, and the tiny figures—human as well as animal—that they fashion in this material, although somewhat crude, show no mean ability. This skill is also to be remarked in regard to the use of the pencil. One of them, As-sey-e-yeh, drew from memory a steamer in perspective, with the reflections in the water, and that, too, in a suggestive and artistic way.—Frank Wilbert Stokes in Century.

Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by sudden change to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and, if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrh will follow; severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breath, and oftentimes an offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to allay inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

INDEX-TRIBUNE

SONOMA, AUGUST 22, 1896.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR.

THE WATER QUESTION.

Otto Von Geldern and C. E. Grunsky, whose services have been secured by the City Trustees to examine into the matter of a municipal water works system are expected in town to-day for the purpose of continuing their investigation into the cheapest, best and most available water supply. When they shall have completed their labors in that direction they will submit a report to the City Trustees, when no doubt some one of the several propositions offered will be submitted to the people.

BLACKMAILING TACTICS.

APROPOS to an unjustifiable and libellous attack upon four of the five City Trustees of Sonoma by a couple of self-styled newspaper men, who want to run the town, we give space to the following from the Santa Rosa Republican:

"When a newspaper scribbler fills his sheet with epithets, it is because he has no argument to advance. Blackguardism, insinuations, false quotations from others and reckless statements are the weapons of knaves and not of honest men. The object of such journalism is to excite the passions of the vicious and to lash the ignorant into action of the consequence of which they know nothing. The editor who stoops to this kind of work proves his lack of character by so doing. It is his object to tear down in the hope that in the wreck that may follow some profit may come to himself. In almost every instance such creatures are corrupt, and opportunity is all that is required to make them public plunderers."

THE PHYLLOXERA AGAIN.

PROFESSOR George Hussman of Napa, in writing to the California Fruit Grower, recently said: "Professor Hayne, instructor of the College of Agriculture at the State University, has returned from a tour of inspection in the upper part of Napa Valley. His object, he states, was to determine if the so-called 'Riparia disease' was the Anaheim disease, and second, to note the progress of the selected resistant vines, which the University imported for distribution last spring, samples of which were sent to a few typical localties for trial, before the general distribution, which is to take place in the spring of 1897. He says the phylloxera has made steady progress, and many acres will not bear this year, from which a good crop was expected. Even replanted vines will prove disappointing. Professor Hayne has established the fact that the Riparia disease is not the Anaheim disease, and has also confirmed his opinion as to the value of the resistant varieties he imported from abroad, and known as the Riparia gloinde montpellier and Riparia grande glabre. These are now growing in the vineyard of H. W. Crabb, the veteran scientific viticulturists of Napa, and also at the vinery of John Swett at Martinez. All doubters are requested to pay a visit to one or the other of these vineyards and satisfy themselves as to their vigor, size, etc."

It is still uncertain when the Superior Court will consider the appeal of Theodore Durrant, the convicted murderer. His friends now say that he was insane at the time he committed the murders of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams in the Emanuel Baptist Church. Some time previous to the murders he was sick and confined to his room for six weeks, being delirious part of this period, and it is claimed he had not recovered from this attack at the time he committed the murders. Bah!

A RICH quartz strike has been made in the old Marguerite mine near Auburn. The ledge assays as high as $68,000 per ton and there are $15,000,000 in sight.

DR. NANSEN announces that he will again try and reach the North Pole. He will probably conduct a sledging party from Franz Josef Land in the direction of the Pole.

THE State tax rate this year will be 46 on $100. Last year the rate was 68½ cents. This information comes from Governor Budd's office.

THE LAW AND RAILWAY FRANCHISES.

N. W. GRISWOLD, who recently made application to the Board of Supervisors of this county for a franchise for an electric railway, will have to wait for another six months at least before his application can be acted upon. It has been discovered that the Legislature of 1893 passed an act which provides that no franchise can be granted by Boards of Supervisors for railways of any kind ninety days before and seventy days after an election. The object of the law is to prevent "boodling" by the San Francisco Supervisors. The franchise applied for by Mr. Griswold is wanted for fifty years and connects with all the tide water streams of Sonoma and Napa counties. He agrees to commence work as soon as the franchise is passed and to construct twenty-five miles of road within a year. Five miles of road are to be built each succeeding year until the system is completed. The asked for franchise covers lines running from Santa Rosa to Embarcadero. Sonoma to the Napa county line, Santa Rosa to the mouth of Russian river, via Bodega Bay, Sebastopol to Petaluma, Santa Rosa to Napa county line, via Healdsburg and Alexander Valley.

The best way to avoid scalp diseases, hair falling out, and premature baldness, is to use the best preventive known for that purpose —Hall's Hair Renewer.

Judge Porter of Santa Rosa is an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for Superior Judge of this county.

THE ARENIC GIANTS STRIKE HANDS.

The Great Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Famous Shows Colossally United.

After all, the reports of the conjunction of those great luminaries of the circus business, J. A. Bailey and Ephrain, Lewis and Peter Sells, which was at first laughed down the wind as Dame Rumor's most preposterous fake, turns out to be true, and based upon a consolidation of such vast proportions, possibilities and resources as to astound old-time and ordinary managers, justify immense anticipations and suggest far-reaching revolutionary effects in the tented field. To this tremendous consolidation of wild beasts, arenic features, spectacular displays, horses, tents, cars, and what not, Mr. Bailey contributes the original and famous Adam Forepaugh menagerie and circus, which he purchased when sold as provided for in its founder's and sole proprietor's will. The Sells Brothers, on their part, add their entire arenic resources, as represented in their enormous united railroad shows, which have achieved popularity and success in both the widest domestic and foreign fields. The result is an overwhelming and unparalled aggregation, backed up by ample capital, and directed by the most capable, sagacious and enterprising proprietors and managers in the business. The giants, instead of distracting and wasting their energies in unprofitable opposition, strike hands to give the public double what either has heretofore offered, and yet at the same price of admission heretofore charged by each—a wise and generous policy, inuring greatly to the advantage and pleasure of every patron, which means pretty much everybody. These great united shows, collectively forming the most stupendous and complete exhibiton of the kind on earth, are to appear for the first time in Santa Rosa on Saturday, August 29th. We shall refer to some of the many most notable attractions later. Meantime prepare yourself to attend and participate in a genuine elephantine symposium of wonder, exhilaration and delight.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CUT PRICES by the only concern that ever voluntarily reduced prices, or in recent times originated a new idea in Windmill and Water Supply Goods. Everything the farmer sells is low. Who sells low to him? We have repeatedly refused to join, and have therefore defeated windmill combination, and have, since '89, reduced the cost of wind power to ¼ what it was. Through gratitude, and because we are the sole originators of all that is good in the modern steel windmill and tower, THE WORLD HAS GIVEN US MORE THAN HALF ITS WINDMILL BUSINESS. We believe safest to deal with, and because we are the sole originators in low prices, high grades and large sales. We make short hand with long power stroke pumps, with best seamless brass tube cylinders, lower than iron ones—a 2½ x 16 inch at $3.53. We prepay freight to 20 branch houses. LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

IMPROVED TELEPHONE SERVICE

Sonoma to be Connected With Petaluma and Napa With Double Wires.

The Sunset Telephone Company has a force of twelve linemen out this week putting up an extra wire between Sonoma and Napa on the east and Sonoma and Petaluma on the west. The men were at work in the vicinity of this place last Tuesday and Wesnesday. On Thursday they went to Petaluma, which was their headquarters, for several days. This improved service will be a great accommodation to the people of this valley, who, in times past, in order to get a message through the telephone have exerted a great deal of lung power, to say nothing of patience which has been sorely tried before getting the ear of the rubber-neck fellow at the other end of the wire.

Accidentally Shot.

A young man named Flynn, a resident of Oakland, who is camping with a party of friends on the Wegner farm near Glen Ellen, was accidentally shot with a 22-calibre rifle, on Monday last. He was riding in a buggy and the rifle which he held in his hand, muzzle downward, was prematurely discharged, the ball entering and passing clear through one of his feet. Dr. Walliser of this place was summoned to the injured man's aid and dressed the wound, which, although, will lay him up for a short time, is not of a dangerous nature.

Visited the Home.

A party of Santa Rosa people visited the Home for Feeble Minded last Saturday and were hospitably received by Dr. and Mrs. Osborne. The following composed the party: Mrs Lavin, Mrs. Doran, Mrs. Wines, Mrs. Fountain, Mrs. Belden, Mrs. Keenan, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. J. B. Davis, Judge Crawford, Bert and Ted Crawford, Frank Cherry, Mr. Hockin. Misses Jessie and Alice Peter, Alma Keser, Gertrude Hockin, Carrie Brewer and Belle Ross.

Tobacco Culture.

L. Modini, proprietor of the Garibaldi House, has growing on his premises a row of tobacco plants one hundred feet in length. The seed was planted last April and the growth has been most wonderful. The plants vary in height from six to eight feet and the leaves are simply immense, some of them measuring three feet in length and fifteen inches in breadth. The leaves are almost free from imperfections and will make the finest kind of leaf tobacco.

Military Ball.

Company H, Fifth Regiment Infantry, N. G. C. of Napa, will give a grand opening ball at the new Armory Hall on Friday evening, September 4th. This promises to be Napa's swell affair of the season and as the members of the company have many friends in Sonoma and vicinity this place will no doubt be well represented. We acknowledge with thanks complimentary tickets from the "sojer boys."

Young Mallards.

Young mallards are reported to be plentiful in the tules south of town, and great sport is anticipated by local nimrods when the season for ducks opens on October 15th. The tules bordering the shores of Sonoma Creek have always been a favorite breeding ground for the mallard, but this season are exceptionally so.

Bryan Free Silver Club.

A Bryan Free Silver Club was organized in Glen Ellen last Saturday evening with a membership of thirty-three. Jas. W. Gibson was elected President and M. E. Bones, John M. Hendley and J. W. Justi Vice-Presidents and C. E. Harvey Secretary and Treasurer. Meetings will be held weekly in the Native Son's Hall.

De Bernardi vs. Cheda

C. De Bernardi of San Francisco has instituted suit against Peter Cheda, the well-known dairyman of this place, to recover the sum of $2,200 and interest.

LEAGUE OF THE CROSS.

Will Again Go into Camp in this Valley.

The Cadets of the League of the Cross, who went into camp near Sonoma on the 4th of July last and remained one week, were so well pleased with the beautiful Sonoma Valley that its members have dedided to pitch their tents at Glen Ellen to-day. On the occasion of their former visit only two companies, under command of Captains Drady and Haggerty, were represented. On this occasion, however, six companies will enjoy the outing.

Rev. Father McDonald and Dr. Mulligan, who accompanied the Cadets on their former visit, will participate in the encampment, the latter as surgeon and the former as chaplain.

The Cadets will remain in camp eight days. During their sojourn the good people of Glen Ellen, it goes without saying, will do all in their power to make the stay of the boys a pleasant one.

That Clam Bake.

Chief Poppe of the Sonoma Fire Department received the following invitation to a clam bake yesterday:

Dear Sir—You are invited to be present at the 18th Annual Rhode Island Clam Dinner tendered to the Electrical Fraternity by Eugene F. Phillips, President of the American Electrical Works of Providence, R. I., at Pomham Club, on Saturday, August twenty-second, 1896. Lunch at 11:30. Bake opens at 2. Please reply.

The following reply was mailed the same day by the recipient:

Sonoma, Cal., Aug. 21st, 1896.

Dear Sir—I received to-day your kind invitation to attend a clam bake at Providence, R. I., on Saturday August 22nd, 1896, and in pursuance of your request I hasten to reply. Your guests, no doubt, will be very much disappointed at my not putting in an appearance, but under the circumstances, "without the wings of the morning," how in the devil and Sam Hill am I going to Providence from here in one day? I will be obliged to forego the pleasure of meeting with you this year, and trust that when your next "bake" takes place, the improved condition of science will have invented an appliance, either electrical or aerial, which will annihilate space and permit me upon similar short notice to be present, notwithstanding the distance. Regetting exceedingly my inability to be present, and the pleasure of demolishing the juicy Quahog or the toothsome Little Neck, as the case may be, in either of which I am an adept.

Yours in Sadness,
J. E. POPPE,
The Champion Clam Cruncher of the Pacific Slope.

Big Reduction in Telegraph Rates.

On Wednesday last the Western Union Telegraph Company announced a big reduction in its telegraph rates. The reduction affects, among other places, all points on the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway in Sonoma county. The reduction does not change the rate between this place and San Francisco, which is 25 cents for a ten-word message, but lowers the rate to Stockton, Sacramento and other points in California.

The cut rates apply both from and to Sonoma. Fully 50 per cent of the towns affected are points where the company has no competition. The reason given for the reductions is that the increase in the volume of business between San Francisco and the towns affected justified the cut in rates.

McKinley and Hobart Club.

The McKinley and Hobart Club of this place is constantly receiving accessions to its ranks. The membership now numbers 126.

At a regular meeting of the club last Monday evening it was decided to organize a glee club. The practibility of organizing a uniformed bicycle corps was also discussed.

Santa Rosa Business College.

On September 1st this most excellent institution begins its sixth year with most flattering prospects. Last year there were nearly forty graduates, many of whom are now holding responsible and lucrative positions. Every young man and young woman who expects to succeed in a business career should take a course at the Santa Rosa Business College. *

The meals to be had at the Sonoma House, now kept by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stein, are the best to be had in any hotel north of San Francisco. *

CITY TRUSTEES.

SPECIAL MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

First of a Series of Water Ordinances Passed to First Reading.

At a special meeting of the City Trustees held last evening Trustee Bulotti introduced ordinance No. 49, entitled, "An ordinance determining that the public interest and the necessity of the City of Sonoma demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of a permanent system of municipal water works and of all things connected with the use thereof."

The ordinance was passed to first reading and will come up for final adoption at the next regular meeting of the Board on the first Wednesday of next month.

No other business coming up the Board then adjourned.

J. C. Ayer, who recently purchased the Alta Vista farm adjoining the Gericke ranch, is having his purchase surveyed by A Barion of the United States Land Office.

Hon. Robt. Howe and Fred'k T. Duhring, delegates to the Democratic Congressional Convention, went to Napa last Saturday to select a candidate to run against Judge Barham. The convention, however, adjourned for two weeks without making a selection. Tom Geary and J. W. Oates of Santa Rosa are both out for the nomination.

H. C. Manuel of Napa was in town Thursday. He is part owner in a fine basalt block quarry near that place and at present has some 30,000 blocks ready for shipment to San Francisco. As there is no demand for blocks in that city at the present time Mr. Manuel has shut down his quarry temporarily.

SCHELLVILLE SIFTINGS

Steve Akers visited his parents at this place last Sunday.

The Shakers are a Happy Community.

It is said, but the shaker who shakes because he can't help it is by no means a happy individual. So shakes the person troubled with chills and fever. The quivering and shuddering sensation is followed by no less a plague, namely, burning fever, which is followed by a perspiration bath that leaves the unhappy sufferer "as weak as a cat," a most unfortunate simile, by the way, as the cat, for its size, is a particularly muscular animal. Under the above circumstances vital stamina is soon used up. What will recuperate it? Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which eradicates malarial disease in every form repairs its terrible ravages upon the system. Derangement of the liver always accompanies malarial disorder. To the relief of this complaint, as well as constipation and dyspepsia, the Bitters is admirably adapted. No less efficacious and thorough is it for kidney trouble, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia. A wineglassful three times a day.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1896.

London Fog Precautions.

It has been computed that a fog costs the metropolis from £50,000 to £100,000 a day. A large portion of this is borne by the railroad companies. As soon as the fog descends the plate layers, without waiting orders, leave their work and undertake the duties of fog signalmen. For this they receive an extra shilling a day. This appears a small item, yet a single fog has been known to cost over £50 for extra wages to plate layers at Clapham Junction alone.

Each fog signal man is supplied with a lantern, flags and a supply of detonators. By means of these he conveys to the engine drivers the signals which they cannot distinguish through the mist. "Caution" is given by a single detonator, "danger" by two detonators placed upon the rails at a distance of ten yards apart. Detonators are small tin boxes two inches in diameter, each containing three percussion caps and a small quantity of gunpowder. At the base of each are two strips of lead for fastening it to the rail. They are made with great care, chiefly in Birmingham and London, and it is rarely that one fails to explode. The wholesale price of detonators is 1 penny each, and the average annual consumption of each big railway company is about 150,000, costing £625.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Queer Customs a Century Ago.

I thought that I knew most of the manners and customs of the eighteenth century, but I find two or three with which I was unacquainted, so that very likely there are a great many more still undiscovered.

In the year 1792, for instance, visiting was managed by sending round an empty chair attended by footmen—that is to say, the chairmen carried the chair and behind it walked two footmen, who carried the cards and with grave faces asked at each door whether Lady A. was at home. She never was at home.

Again—but only if one was a very great lady—it was common to invite one's friends to a rout, and when the street was blocked with the coaches and the rooms with the company assembled the hostess would call her own coach and go off to somebody else's rout.

Also, for another pretty trait, there were ladies, but not great ladies, who gave frequent card parties and found their hospitality profitable on account of the "card money." At that time every player was supposed to slip something under a candlestick. When the company departed, the servants collected the money for themselves.

In the case of this prudent housewife she lifted the candlesticks herself and kept the coin.—London Queen.

A Kayass.

A kavass is a native servant appointed by the sultan to the various embassies and legations. They are paid and clothed by their employers and are answerable to the sultan for the safety of those on whom they attend. In old days if any accident happened to a member of a legation or embassy, the wretched kavass, whether in fault or not, forfeited his life. Those who have read "Paul Patoff" will remember the terror of the kavass on Alexander Patoff's mysterious disappearance from St. Sophia. There are six kavasses at the British embassy. Their undress uniform is dark blue cloth thickly braided in black, with a broad gold belt and gold straps over the shoulder. They all carry a sword and have a revolver in a gold pouch slung from the waist belt. The dress uniform is a fine shade of crimson, also thickly braided and only worn on state occasions when in attendance on the embassador. —Longman's Magazine.

Pebblelike Beans.

A curious case of "mimicry" has been noticed on the coast near Manilla, in the Philippine islands. The seeds of a bean fall among quartz pebbles, and so closely resemble them in shape, size, color, luster, hardness and stratification as to be distinguishable from them only by a very close examination. The beans range from a third of an inch to an inch in size, and vary greatly in shape also, some resembling well rounded beach pebbles and others mimic pebbles that have been broken across. The color varies from dark to light drab, some with a greenish tinge, while others resemble pebbles of chalcedony or crystallized quartz. Nearly all show a series of dark bands, suggestive of stratification. All are hard, and clink when shaken together.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

A Standing Engagement.

The Duc d'Aumale once challenged Prince Napoleon to a duel on account of something the latter had said against the Orleanists. The prince refused to fight and was therefore reckoned a coward. Next day the prince went to call on Leonide Leblanc, the famous actress, at an hour when the duke chanced already to be there. "Tell the prince," said she to the footman, "that I am engaged, but only with the Duc d'Aumale, so he may come right in." But the prince did not go in. Nor did he ever go in again, for whenever he called thereafter he was told that she was engaged with the Duc d'Aumale.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Caught.

Bobby (at the breakfast table)—Maud, did Mr. Jones take any of the umbrellas or hats from the hall last night?

Maud—Why, of course not. Why should he?

Bobby—That's just what I'd like to know. I thought he did, because I heard him say when he was going out, 'I'm going to steal just one,' and— Why, what's the matter, Maud?—Montreal Herald.

Crushed.

"Sir," said an irate little gentleman of about 4 feet 11 inches to a 6 foot man, "I would have you know, sir, that I have been well brought up."

"Possibly," was the answer, "but you have not been brought up far."—London Tit-Bits.

Special English Traits.

The intellectual specialty of the English, as we should contend, is their impatience of abstract ideas, their inability to believe that because an idea is sound they are, therefore, bound, even when it is inconvenient, to push it to its logical result. They insist on self government, but are quite content to tolerate monarchy and aristocracy. They hold to religious liberty as a dogma, but tax all landlords indifferently to support an established church. They believe in the equality of citizens and tolerate the most astounding differences in the amount of voting power which is assigned to each, so that a Londoner has scarcely a third of the power to influence laws possessed by an Arcadian or man of Kilkenny.

They swear by the franchise as the sheet anchor of liberty, but do not fret, if they get liberty, because the franchise is a restricted one. Every man with us is in the national ideal "free to say the thing he will," but when he has said it he comes under very strict laws, indeed, intended to provide that what is said shall not be libelous or blasphemous or improper. Colonel Ingersoll, the American apostle of disbelief, would on this side of the water have passed half his life in prison.—London Spectator.

Paul Revere's Tower.

It is saddening for the patriotic tourist after he has gazed with reverence at the towers of old Christ church to be told that he is not seeing the original windows from which Paul Revere hung out his lanterns, but a copy, the real tower having been blown down in the great gale of 1804. However, there are plenty of genuine relics inside—where the vast majority of Boston never goes. There are still the old deep window seats, the balcony surrounding the church, with its supporting pillars and upper arches; the top "slaves' gallery," and the antique pews. The bottom of the ancient pulpit of hourglass shape is left us, but the top was given away by the church officials in 1820. The clock under the rail has told of the flight of the man with the scythe for 150 years; the "Vinegar Bible," prayer books, and silver communion service bearing the royal arms were gifts from King George II in 1733; the huge christening basin came from a parishioner in 1730. The marble bust of Washington against the wall was the earliest memorial erected to the Father of His Country, having been placed in position but ten years after his death.—Boston Traveller.

A Boy's Sympathy.

A 14-year-old boy went into his mother's presence with one eye black, his lips swollen and a ragged scratch across his cheek, the blood from which he had wiped off with his shirt sleeve. "Nicodemus," cried the parent as he crawled in, "have you been fighting again?"

"No," he sullenly grunted.

"Then what on earth ails your face?"

"Jim Green's ma's dead," he replied.

"Well, suppose she is. What's that to do with your disfigured face?"

"I seed Jim just now," answered the boy, "and he looked awful sad and lonesome."

"Well?"

"I didn't know what ter do ter make him bright and happy like, and, feelin sorry for him, I jest went up and let him hit me a few licks."

"Did it help him?" asked the mother.

"Help him?" echoed the boy in a surprised tone. "Of course it did. Don't you think it'd make you feel good to bust a fellow that way what had licked you every week for a year?"—Pearson's Weekly.

Major Shirts, of Course.

Famous old Governor Henry A. Wise of Virginia was directly or indirectly the source of many a good story. Here is one that I do not think has found its way into print: One day at a political gathering he was approached by a well dressed individual, who shook hands warmly with him. The governor was a bit bothered and confessed he could not recall the hand shaker's name.

"Why, you must remember me, governor," said the latter. "I'm from Richmond. I made your shirts."

"Why, of course," said the governor with all a politician's tact. "Gentlemen, this is my very excellent neighbor, Major Shirts."—Washington Post.

A Question of Precedence.

The various noble orders of merit in Great Britain have the following precedence: Knights Grand Crosses of the Bath, Knights Grand Crosses of the Star of India, Knights of St. Patrick, Knights Grand Crosses of St. Michael and St. George, Knights Commanders of the Bath, Knights Commanders of the Star of India, Knights Commanders of St. Michael and St. George, and Knights Bachelors.
